Enemy Takes Hills

South Koreans Driven Down

U.S. EIGHTH ARMY HEADQUARTERS, Korea, Aug. 24 (Friday) (AP)—Counter-attacking Reds forced South Korean troops off two hills in eastern Korea late last night.

The observation points were among numerous heights the South Koreans had seized in a "battle of the hills" which continued into its sixth day Friday.

The Reds won back a hill northwest of inland Yangju and another west of coastal Kamsong. Rain and fog shrouded the fierce action.

South Korean troops first yielded the hill northwest of Yangju at 11:30 a.m. Thursday to two Red battalions. But the R.O.K.'s counterattacked at 2 p.m. and won it back by 7:45 p.m.

West of Kamsong, infantrymen seized a high hill at 2:40 p.m. Thursday. At 9 a.m. the Reds counterattacked and in two hours pushed the R.O.K.'s off the hill.

U.S. Eighth Army headquarters said the South Koreans had inflicted 3,019 Red casualties since Saturday and won numerous vital objectives.

A North Korean communiqué countered that the Allies had failed in a "general offensive" on the eastern front and had suffered heavy losses.

Viscount's Visit Here Strictly Private Affair

Viscount Alexander, Canada's Governor-General, arrived in Victoria yesterday morning for a strictly private two-day visit at Government House.

The Governor-General and his two sons were met at the Vancouver boat yesterday morning at 8 a.m. by welcoming party including His Honor Lieutenant Governor Clarence Wallace and Mayor Percy E. George.

The Governor-General will take part in two functions today, a private Boy Scout investiture at 4 p.m. and a private United Services Institution dinner at the Union Club tonight.

A Government House aide yesterday hinted that His Excellency is camera-shy. He declined to make appointments with the press for interviews or photographs during the Governor-General's stay here.

Reds' Charges, Denied by U.N., Widen Korea Armistice Break

U.N. BASE NEAR KAESONG, Aug. 24 (Friday) (INS)—The Korean armistice conference breach was widened today by elaborate Red charges that an Allied plane tried to kill off the Communist peace delegation at Kaesong.

The Red charges—already branded as a "frameup" and "fraudulent" after on-the-spot check by Allied liaison officers—demanded a "satisfactory reply" from Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway as the price for resuming the peace talks.

Red China's Peiping radio broadcast the Communist charges and demands in three languages—Chinese, Japanese and English.

All three versions of the broadcasts were subjected to careful comparative study by Ridgway's language experts at his Tokyo headquarters and also at the United Nations base near Kaesong.

The formal Communist protest, breaking off the peace talks, charged that the Red delegation's residence in Kaesong was the intended target of an aerial bombing Wednesday night.

Allied officials called the alleged bombing affair a deliberately "manufactured" incident designed to justify the Communist break-off of the Korea armistice conference.

The conference "appeared headed into a lengthy suspension as a result of the Communist cries of "attempted murder" and their demands for a "satisfactory reply" from Ridgway.

A spokesman at Ridgway's headquarters said of the Communist message: "We must assume this contains a definite indication of Communist intentions as the message is addressed to General Ridgway. I imagine it will be given long, long study."

CONFLICTION

The unusual comparative study of the message was prompted by Peiping's conflicting reports. One Peiping broadcast said the Reds suspended the Kaesong talks only for Thursday, but a subsequent broadcast said the talks were suspended indefinitely.

In Washington, President Truman bluntly asserted there is "no truth in the Communist claim" that an Allied plane bombed Kaesong. But the President said he did not know what the Reds are seeking to do in "this new masquerade."

Legion Urges Holiday For Royal Visit Here

Zone Council of the Canadian Legion last night called for a civic holiday on Monday, Oct. 15, to permit Victorians to turn out and welcome Princess Elizabeth and Prince Philip.

The council pointed out that visits by royalty particularly the heir presumptive to the throne—were rare, and the public should certainly have a holiday.

A spokesman said the legionnaires were counting on playing their part in the ceremony by lining the route to the Cenotaph when the royal couple laid a wreath there.

IMPOSSIBLE TO ATTEND

Unless there was a civic holiday it would be impossible for members of the legion to be present in large numbers.

Citing the tremendous preparations made when the king and queen and the Prince of Wales visited Victoria, the legion council felt that a holiday was necessary to have the occasion marked in a fitting manner.

Ten Killed In Alaska Air Crashes

ANCHORAGE, Alaska, Aug. 23 (AP)—Two plane crashes within 13 hours were added today to the toll of one of Alaska's most disastrous aviation months.

The two latest crashes brought to six the total in Alaska during the past month and the total of dead and missing close to 70. The string of accidents started July 21 when a Canadian Pacific Airlines Korean airlift plane with 38 aboard disappeared.

A flaming crash of an Air Force C-47 last night killed nine men—a crew of four and five passengers—at the Summit air field along the Alaska railroad.

Pilot of a jet which crashed near the new Anchorage International airport was thrown clear of the plane and apparently killed on impact.

Air authorities here blamed icing conditions for the C-47 crash on a flight from Elmendorf to Eielson base, near Fairbanks.

Raging B.C. Fires Take Timber Toll

Blazes Fought by 3,000 At 149 Provincial Points

Some of the worst forest fires in British Columbia history are roaring across rich timber stands today.

Three thousand fire fighters throughout the province, plagued by winds and lack of rain, are battling flames at 149 different points in British Columbia.

A heavy pall of smoke almost blanketed the sun in Vancouver yesterday and many points in Victoria were covered by a thick haze from the two major blazes on the Island—East Sooke and Lake Cowichan.

At Cowichan, 2,000 acres of green timber and snags have been burned as about 300 men work around-the-clock shifts to check the course of the flames.

WINDS FEARED

R. W. Lohel, an independent logging contractor, has lost about 4,000,000 feet of felled and bucked timber in addition to three donkey engines, rigging and other equipment valued at $60,000.

Most feared at the unchecked Lake Cowichan fire is a strong wind. Loggers say it could send flames at a mile every ten minutes if the fire crowned from tree top to tree top toward Camp Six, B.C. Forest Products Ltd., four miles west of the fire.

Wind would also fan flames toward Round Bay and Gordon River. Western Forest Industries timber stands.

Light winds are predicted to

Q.C.A. Plane Has Accident

VANCOUVER, Aug. 23 (CP)—A Vancouver-bound Queen Charlotte Airlines plane was damaged at Elk Bay today when it struck a submerged object while making a landing.

No one was injured and the seven passengers were taken ashore. The plane was on a scheduled flight from Sullivan Bay to Vancouver.

A Q.C.A. Canso was dispatched to bring the passengers here, but a heavy pall of smoke from forest fires prevented a landing. Another plane will be sent from Vancouver in the morning.

President Recalls Harriman

ABADAN, Iran, Aug. 23 (INS)—W. Averell Harriman, President Truman's personal envoy mediator in Tehran, was summoned home today and Anglo-Iranian Oil Company employees were ordered evacuated from Iran's southern oil fields.

Both moves came as a result of the breakdown last night of Anglo-Iranian negotiations to end the oil nationalization controversy which has stopped the flow of Iranian oil to the western defense machine.

Richard Stokes, chief British negotiator, flew back to London today to report to the cabinet on possibility of reopening the talks, which collapsed after Iran refused to agree to installation of a British manager at Abadan.

IRAN'S MOVE

Before boarding his plane at Tehran, Mr. Stokes said the talks could be reopened if Iran submitted fresh proposals in line with a formula submitted by Mr. Harriman.

In London, the British Foreign Office charged Iran showed during the recent talks that it had no intention of negotiating on the basis of the Harriman formula.

The Foreign Office statement said Britain would seek a final judgment from the world court at The Hague on the dispute, to replace the court's interim decision suggesting Abadan operations be continued under British management.

SAFETY MEASURES

The London statement also charged Iran permitted interference with the company's personnel, and warned "necessary measures" would be taken to protect employees if Iran fails to assure their safety.

British troops and ships are standing by at Cyprus and in the Persian Gulf ready for any emergency that might arise during or after the evacuation.

Death for Every Picture of Stalin

Network of Russian Slave Labor Camps Acquires Recruits From Family Hearths

ADILE KASHA, a Russian from Stalingrad who re-emerged in the Soviet army as he might have a chance to escape to the West, tells in this article, fifth of a series, of Communist's vast network of slave labor camps. It is a story extremely close to Kasha, for in 1947 his father, mother and sister were deported to unknown fates.

By ADILE KASHA

(Copyright, 1951, by International News Service)

SALEBURG, Aug. 23 (INS)—It often is whispered in Russia that for every portrait of Stalin that hangs on the wall, there is a Russian "hanging" in a slave labor camp.

There are millions of portraits of Stalin in the U.S.S.R. Slave camps are more than whispered words to me. My mother, father and sister were sent to one. Unless they since have died, they are in one today.

In my years in the Soviet army I met men from every corner of Russia, and few did not have at least one member of his family or circle of closest friends in a "corrective labor camp."

Russians everywhere suffer this common misery.

FIGHT BACK

My father was a so-called "kulak" (small landowner). After the Communists took his land he sought to fight back. In 1941 he went into the hills of Tadzhikistan to join a rebel group for a second time.

Off and on he returned to the hills. In 1947 he was caught.

He didn't go to "prison." Instead, he and my mother and my sister were deported to a penal labor camp to join the largest labor pool in the world, operated by the Ministry of Internal Affairs, the dread M.V.D.

A second sister, a brother and I escaped arrest. The M.V.D. gives no explanations. Some stay, some go. At first the three were together in a camp where they could write. Later they were separated and the letters stopped coming.

NO CONTACT

Apparently they were sent to projects where communication with the outside world is forbidden. There are both types among the countless number of camps in the Soviet Union.

Reports I have heard put the actual number at about 100 main camps, and each main one has about a dozen smaller camps surrounding it. Additionally there are the "great projects" which make use of hundreds of thousands of other slave workers. An organization called "Goulak" controls the system.

Not all inmates of camps were put there because they actively fought the Communists, as my father did. I know men who were deported because they couldn't keep up with a peasant quota, or because they rubbed a party member the wrong way.

My interest in Soviet "justice," and the labor camp system, became intense after 1947, the year my parents were deported.

DETAILS UNKNOWN

No one in the Soviet Union—and I think this includes the top men in Moscow—can possibly know all details of the vast slave labor system. I have only talked to people who had been in camps, or who had relatives in them.

For months, and then it became years, I looked for men who came back, looked for the one in a million chance that one had been in the same camp as my parents.

None ever had.

Soviet "justice" is in the hands of a state within a state, the M.V.D., which succeeded the dread N.K.V.D. The M.V.D. is the ministry of internal affairs which with the M.G.B. or the ministry of state security controls Communism's police, prison and slave labor system in Russia.

LIKE OCTOPUS

The M.V.D. is like an octopus. It has its own troops, issues its own currency in camps, and makes its own laws.

It not only sees to it that the slave labor pool is constantly filled. It also plans giant projects—the great Volga-Don canal is an example—and then assigns its slave labor to jobs.

In other cases the M.V.D. "hires out" slave labor from its camps to other state organizations at a profit to the M.V.D. This slave labor is the foundation of the Red economy. The M.V.D. never stops looking for recruits to replace camp ranks thinned by death.

It is easy to fall into M.V.D. hands and into what in five out of ten cases is a sentence of slow death.

Take the case of a man whom I will call "Gregori" (He still lives in Russia). He was denounced by a party member on trumped-up groundless charges. It still is true that the standing of a party member, in part, depends on the number of people he denounces.

"Gregori" was arrested arbitrarily and had no chance to defend himself.

Soviet prisoners rarely refuse to "confess." (There is no evidence of drugging. It is more a mental injection of a guilt complex.)

"Gregori" was sentenced under article 28 of the Soviet penal code which provides that sentences of more than three years must be served in "corrective labor camps" in virtually every case.

In lesser cases people sentenced to as little as three months also can be sent to labor camps. After you once have served you never are really free. Liberated, you must scrounge for menial jobs and cannot take a

Also Taking Blankets

Canadian Plane to Carry Needed Food to Jamaica

MONTREAL, Aug. 23 (CP)—An R.C.A.F. North Star will take off from Montreal tomorrow on the first leg of a merry flight to hurricane-ravaged Kingston, Jamaica.

Belonging to 426 Transport Squadron at suburban Lachine, the craft will carry 6,000 pounds of foodstuffs and other materials badly needed in Jamaica. The goods are from the Canadian Red Cross.

Taking off at 9 a.m. EDT, the plane will head for Toronto where 3,000 additional pounds will be loaded, and then fly to Kingston.

WINNIPEG, Aug. 23 (CP)—Three thousand pounds of blankets, part of a gift from the Canadian Red Cross to victims of the Jamaica hurricane, left Winnipeg tonight by plane.

An R.C.A.F. plane from Edmonton carried the blankets to Toronto.

The shipment was arranged after the Jamaica Red Cross said the need for blanket was urgent and food also was needed.

S. A. Bjarnason of Toronto, executive assistant to the Canadian Red Cross national commissioner, interrupted a Winnipeg holiday to accompany the shipment.

Tail of Storm Slams Mexico

MEXICO CITY, Aug. 23 (INS)—At least 25 persons were killed and 250 injured today when the tail-end of the fierce Caribbean hurricane which brought havoc on the island of Jamaica and the Yucatan peninsula smashed inland and hit the Mexican city of Cardenas.

Mayor Garcia Ramos reported that the death toll in the city of 30,000 eventually may reach more than 50.

Hundreds of homes were destroyed by the hurricane and heavy rains which caused an irrigation dam to burst and inundate the railroad city in San Luis Potosi State, 250 miles west of the port city of Tampico.

Rail lines were washed out and communications lines destroyed.

Woman Jumps From Aircraft

WENATCHEE, Wash., Aug. 22 (AP)—A young mother of three children who went for a sight-seeing ride in an open cockpit navy trainer plane late today jumped out when the plane had risen 300 feet in the air, the pilot reported.

She was identified as Mrs. Celeste Collier, 29, wife of Wallace D. Collier, a state highway department employee here.

ALLABOARD

By G. E. Mortimore

The social department invades the newsroom:—
"A fire of wide interest to Victorians took place at Sooke at the cocktail hour last Wednesday afternoon.

"The charming, wooded grounds of the Gutz Timber Company provided an idyllic setting for the affair, which was warmly acclaimed as one of the highlights of the outdoor season.

"Mr. Arthur Gutz, tastefully attired in an ankle-length pair of Shanghai blue denim trousers with plunging pocket line and Y.M.C.A.-style sweatshirt, presided at the nozzle of the fire hose.

"A number of out-of-town guests attended, by special invitation of the R.C.M.P."

"A blue 1937 sedan, the car of Mrs. Matilda Smorg, 5001 Johnson Street, and a green 1922 coupe, the car of Mr. Jason Frogwinder, Nanaimo, were united in an accident at the corner of Fort Street and Hillside Avenue last Monday evening.

"Sergeant John Bumpkin, dressed in a charming ensemble of constabulary blue, with leather accessories, officiated at the pretty ceremony and presented Mrs. Smorg with a daintily wrapped summons. Mrs. Smorg gave herself away.

"Mrs. Smorg wore a gown of old-brown calico, slashed at the top, bottom and middle, with windshield-glass accessories and a steering-wheel necklace.

"Honoring Mrs. Smorg, a reception was held on Tuesday at the charming Flaggard Street premises of Magistrate H. C. Hall."

The sports department invades the newsroom:—

"There was a sound of weeping and wailing in the Gutz camp today, and the fans were wearing sackcloth and ashes for the local boys who didn't make good.

"We had what it takes, but we got taken anyway," said Gutz afterwards. There were tears in his eyes, and most of his hair was singed off.

"Old Man Fire, backed by the stellar performance of a high wind, threw Butch Gutz and his smoke-eaters for a sizzling loss Wednesday on the Sooke tree plantation. The axe-and-hose boys looked like they had the Combustion Crew surrounded most of the way through, but the Flamin' Mamies bust through in the last frame and frizzled 'em."

"P.S. There is a forest fire at Sooke."

"Tilly Smorg is a sadder and wiser girl today. Her motorized argument with Jace Frogwinder at the corner of Fort Street and Hillside yesterday convinced her that there are eight sides to every intersection.

"Handicapped by a hostile crowd, a strange town and an injury to his little finger, old Jace looked like a sure loser as he wobbled down the home stretch. Tilly was going strong and full of fight, but she began to look shaky in the kingpins, and the fans could see she was headed for trouble.

"Then it happened. Tilly brushed her opponent with a low left to the bumper, and Jace bowed in with a sideswipe to the fender and a smashing one-two which crumpled Tilly's radiator. It was all over.

"Referee John Bumpkin said Tilly had landed a foul blow. He complained to the commissioner and had her barred from the road for a year."

Lawyer Will Challenge By-Law on Junk Yards

Validity of the city's by-law governing junk yards will be challenged in city police court by Lloyd McKenzie.

Yesterday he appeared before Magistrate A. J. Thomas as counsel for Leslie D. Foxford, who faces separate charges of maintaining junk yards at 1312 Walnut Street and on an adjoining property.

In challenging the validity of the by-law pertaining to such yards, Mr. McKenzie claimed the city had no authority to pass a by-law controlling junk yards or the issuance of permits for them.

He also maintained that the definition of a junk yard, as "void for uncertainty," and that the part of the by-law governing the issuance of junk yard permits was "discriminatory in its nature."

The case was remanded until Aug. 30.

This essay contest is directed to our younger citizens to increase their awareness of the importance of British Columbia's growing Pulp and Paper Industry.

DID YOU KNOW? British Columbia's Pulp and Paper Industry has grown steadily since 1940. Our pulp and paper products now account for more than a quarter of the total value of the entire forest industries manufactured output.

Effects of this expansion can be measured in terms of new jobs for B.C. workers, and tremendous amounts of B.C.'s goods and services bought by the industry. Thus, wealth returned in payment for pulp and paper products, sold abroad ultimately reaches the pockets of all British Columbians.

Health Department Taking Action To Cut Down Provincial Toothache

The B.C. government is doing its best to see that people quit getting toothaches.

Through the division of preventive dentistry of the department of health and welfare, steps are being taken to reduce tooth decay and other dental problems throughout the province.

Main concern of the department is children in isolated areas. Scarcity of dentists in sparsely populated country makes a twice-yearly visit to the dentist a virtual impossibility for the children.

DENTIST TO CHILDREN
As an answer to the problem, the division is taking the dentist to the children.

Units in setting up offices in rural districts have not yet been used, according to Dr. Frank McCombie, head of the division. Demand for portable dental units for use by private dentists has been heavy, though.

During the past summer these portable dental units have been taken to Alert Bay, Bella Coola and rural points along the Alaska highway. At present, pre-school children in the Port Alice and Port Hardy regions are being checked and treated by dentists using the units.

The units, which can be carried in the back of a car or in a boat or airplane, can be set up in most any location although it is preferable to have running water and electricity available.

CHILDREN ONLY?
Although the equipment has been used for work on people of all ages, demand for the units has brought the likelihood that in future they will be used only for children of school and pre-school age.

Canada Joining Three-Power Pact To Protect West Coast Fisheries

OTTAWA, Aug. 23 (CP)—Canada, the United States and Japan are joining in a three-power treaty for the protection and conservation of west coast fisheries.

The negotiations opened some weeks ago, officials here disclosed today, and Fisheries Minister

A Washington dispatch today suggested the fisheries treaty might be ready for signing before the end of the year.

However, government sources here doubted it would be ready that soon.

The treaty, in diplomatic phrases, will call upon each of the rights of the others and the integrity of their coastal waters.

It will also deal with conservation problems.

WOULD BAR POACHING

Put more bluntly, however, the prime aim of the treaty will be to prevent Japanese fishermen from poaching in the traditional waters of Canada and the United States.

It will be aimed at protecting the rights and the livelihood of Canadian and American fishermen.

Officials here say Japanese vessels never have fished illegally off Canada's west coast. They did trespass U.S. waters off Alaska in the 1930's and British Columbia fishermen long have feared that they might invade

B.C.'s territorial waters.

The fear of B.C. fishermen, often voiced through west coast members of parliament in the Commons, has been that the Japanese would settle outside the three-mile territorial limit and take salmon headed for B.C. waters. Besides depleting Canada's salmon catch, this would interfere with conservation measures.

discussing the treaty provisions with representatives of British Columbia's fisheries industry.

Denies Craft Running Dark Before Crash

GROTON, Conn., Aug. 23 (AP)—The commander of the Royal Navy submarine Artful today declined to express an opinion as to the cause of a collision between his craft and a Canadian fishing vessel off the coast of Nova Scotia Tuesday.

But Lt.-Comdr. Robert T. Smith told a reporter that contrary to the quoted assertions of the fishing vessel's skipper, his submarine "had been on the surface for a fortnight" and was "definitely running with lights on."

Capt. George Lovelace of Liverpool, N.S., had charged the Artful had surfaced just before the crash and had no lights showing when it collided with his Edith Eva, a 28-foot craft.

VISIBILITY GOOD

Smith said that although it was raining at the time of the collision "11:10 a.m. EDT," it was not a heavy storm and that visibility was good.

Lovelace and his crew of two were taken aboard Artful "as dry as a bone," Smith said. The submarine then proceeded two miles to a point where another fishing vessel was asked to take the Edith Eva in tow, which it did.

Smith said the submarine remained with the two craft until shallow water was reached before continuing its cruise to this port.

The Artful showed no evidence of the collision, and Smith said the only apparent damage to the fishing boat was a stove in plank which caused some flooding.

Assassination Said Planned

CANNES, France, Aug. 23 (AP)—French police scanned all new arrivals on the Riviera today, looking for two Egyptians reported on the way here to try to assassinate King Farouk.

Police reported an anonymous note delivered to them said the two Egyptians, identified by name, had crossed the Swiss border in secret and had arrived on the French Mediterranean coast.

King Farouk has been visiting the Riviera gambling resorts for several weeks on a honeymoon with Queen Narriman.

MEDICINE HAT, Alta., Aug. 23 (CP)—The new house obviously was being built half-way across Fifth Avenue at 12th Street.

Alderman R. C. Gardner rushed down to City Hall to report the intrusion on city property.

City Hall told him Fifth Avenue, not the new house, was out of place.

The avenue takes a jog at that point. The roadway is on what used to be a vacant lot.

MINOT, N.D., Aug. 23 (AP)—A police bomb-disposal squad gingerly opened the mysterious-looking shoe box left on the doorstep of Mrs. Ted Booker.

The head of a meowing kitten popped out. An accompanying note said, "Please take this in and give it a home. Thank you."

Okanagan Caravan Watches As Ogopogo Frolics in Lake

KELOWNA, B.C., Aug. 23 (CP)—A caravan of 13 cars and trucks stopped on the main highway between Peachland and Summerland to watch what appeared to be Okanagan Lake's famed sea monster, Ogopogo, Wednesday.

Three of the cars followed the "thing" for about three miles along the lake in the direction of Penticton until it disappeared from sight at Gartrell Point.

Norman Klassen, whose seven-year-old son, Ricky, first spotted the monster a few hundred feet off shore, said:

"We saw two distinct humps and a terrific splash- ing. He seemed to be thrashing his tail. There was a 10-foot wake of foam behind it."

About 30 persons witnessed the frolicking of Ogopogo.

Acheson's Welcome Cold For Czech Ambassador

WASHINGTON, Aug. 23 (INS)—Secretary of State Dean Acheson broke diplomatic precedent today by telling the new envoy of Czechoslovakia that the U.S. expects a full discussion of the Oatis case as soon as the envoy presents his credentials to President Truman.

Acheson emphasized American displeasure with the Communist Czech government by according the ambassador, Vladimir Prochazka, what is believed to be the briefest reception in State Department history.

Leaving Acheson's office after the two-minute interview, the envoy declined to discuss the 10-year sentence given to American newspaperman William Oatis by a Czech court on what the U.S. regards as trumped up charges of espionage.

BRUSQUE RECEPTION The meeting had been scheduled to last 15 minutes. Department officials could recall no previous occasion when an arriving diplomat was given such a brusque reception.

The department has announced that it will leave no stone unturned to free Oatis.

A State Department spokesman said:

"The secretary stated that he knew it was not customary to discuss business matters before Mr. Prochazka had presented his credentials to the President."

"Mr. Acheson added, however, that as soon as Mr. Prochazka had presented these credentials the secretary wanted to have a thorough discussion with him about the Oatis case in view of the very strong feelings of the U.S. government in this connection."

Bishop Assails Exploiting Of Pilgrims

LOURDES, France, Aug. 23 (Reuters).—The Bishop of Lourdes, site of the world-famous grotto of Saint Bernadette, has made a strong protest against commercial exploitation of this place of pilgrimage.

"We do not want any commercial exploitation of the water of the grotto," said Msgr. Pietro Maria Theas.

"I know that the people of Lourdes suffer like myself from these incursions of Satan into the city of Mary."

But to this must be added a little-advertised side of devotion and unselfishness.

Most of the sick who come to Lourdes are poor. They are met on arrival by volunteer attendants who will carry them to their lodgings and to the grotto for religious services.

The corp of stretcher bearers, called "L'Hotel de Dieu de Notre Dame de Lourdes," includes members from all walks of life.

They come from all over the world, and 10,000 of them spend some time in Lourdes every year. They receive no pay.

Breakdown of Talks Could Be Nerve War

—INTERPRETING THE NEWS—

By J. M. ROBERTS, JR.
A.P. News Analyst

Developments of the last 48 hours in Tehran and Kaesong have placed the world in an almost incredibly dangerous position.

The only basis for optimism at either point lies in indications that the breakdowns in negotiation are part of nerve warfare rather than final decisions.

Communist broadcasts indicated they wanted to keep talking in Korea and that the Chinese break-off was an effort to emphasize their demands regarding a truce demarcation line.

ONE FINAL ATTEMPT

Deadly serious in her intent not to accept the more extreme Iranian demands regarding oil nationalization, Britain seemed to be making one final attempt to convince Tehran what the end of British production could mean. The door to resumed negotiations remained open. It wasn't oil, but international politics, which had become the issue.

In both cases, however, the possibilities that present difficulties would not be overcome presented the world with frightening prospects.

In Korea, it would mean a new kind of war, in which hundreds of thousands more United Nations troops would have to be thrown into an all-out effort to win a war instead of, as previously, to establish a situation in which peaceful settlement might

Original Ousts Imitators

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 23 (INS)—The genuine "woman in black" showed up at Rudolph Valentino's tomb on the 25th anniversary of his death today, shoved her imitators aside and then fainted after placing two dozen red roses beside the screen lover's crypt.

She was Ditra Flame, president of the Valentino Hollywood Memorial Guild who annually pays a visit to Hollywood cemetery to observe the anniversary of Rudy's death.

Ditra arrived in a shiny black Cadillac on the stroke of noon. There were scores of women in black—some old, some young; some thin, some stout—gathered around the tomb.

A buxom blonde "woman in black" who refused to give her name had knelt before the Valentino crypt an hour before Ditra arrived.

Miss Flame, who has insisted Valentino has visited her over the years in her dreams, placed the red roses in containers, prayed briefly and then keeled over in a faint on the marble floor.

News photographers rushed to her aid, after taking pictures. Ditra was helped out to her waiting car and she sped away.

Austin Pick-up delivers 565-gal tanks as routine job

Installing and servicing oil burner installations is work that calls for dependable transportation. One reason why Oil Heating & Service Co. choose an Austin A30 pickup for their work, Jack Scott, pictured with the Austin outside his store on Elfgard Street, states: "For reliability and economy the Austin leaves nothing to be desired, in fact it thrives on work such as delivering the large tank shown in this recent photo." Mr. Jack Scott is not alone in his findings that the Austin does the same job for less—Why not learn how your transport costs can be reduced. British ballet star Celia Franca (left) gives 23-year-old Janice Nagley of Seattle some pointers during an audition yesterday for local dancers. Miss Franca, head of Canada's newly-formed national ballet company, predicts a bright future for interpretive dancing in this country. (Colonist photo by Bud Kinsman.)

No Back Seat

Canadian Ballerinas Held Second to None

Canada's home-grown ballerinas have a mighty fine future ahead of them.

So says Celia Franca, slim, London-born ballet star who gave up a job with England's famed Sadler's Wells Company to come to this country and help establish a national group.

She bubbles over with enthusiasm about this pioneer start and is highly optimistic about her 28 dancers—the nucleus of a larger company which is being formed at Toronto.

DATE WITH FUTURE

She was in Victoria yesterday to look over the local crop of dancers with an eye to spotting the best for a possible date at Toronto in the future.

Long-stemmed young ballerinas loosened the kinks in their legs as Miss Franca paused to discuss Canadian ballet, before starting an afternoon of auditions at the Wynne Shaw dance school.

"We have 28 dancers as a start. Many more want to join the group," she said.

And of the first batch, Miss Franca says "they're good."

"PERHAPS BETTER"

"Quite as good as those in the States and England. Perhaps more so than the English dancers," she thought.

England's short food rations have sapped some of the energy needed for ballet work.

"Most of the dancers are girls. There seems to be a prejudice against male dancers."

Machines Filling Hop-Picking Jobs

NEW WESTMINSTER, Aug. 23 (CP).—Mechanical hop-pickers will displace about 2,400 human pickers in harvesting most of the 31,000,000 Fraser Valley crop this season.

Yield is expected to average 1½ tons per acre.

Canadian Hop Growers Limited employed more than 2,500 pickers last year. This season 150 employees using machines will do the job.

Why weed?

Personally we're inclined to accept the idea of a correspondent who says he lays strips of aluminum foil between his vegetable rows. He reports this discourages the weeds, keeps the soil moist, and reflects the sun's rays to the plant.

There are so many uses for aluminum that the list fills a good-sized book, and is always growing. At present we can't supply Canadian manufacturers with all they want. But we're busy building new plants and powerhouses so that you may be able to buy more of the aluminum articles you would like to have. Aluminum Company of Canada, Ltd. (Alcan).

Priceless Hapsburg Collection of Art Ageless Glitter in Toronto's Gallery

By LESLIE WILSON
TORONTO, Aug. 23 (CP).—The largest emerald in the world—big as a clenched fist—is at the Toronto Art Gallery this month.

It was followed out in the 17th century to make a perfume jar for a Queen's dressing table.

In an upstairs room stands the crown of the King of Rome—son of the Emperor Napoleon. Crusted with gold and inlaid with mother-of-pearl, it was presented to Napoleon on the birth of his son by the citizens of Paris.

The two items are part of a traveling collection of European art treasures lent to the gallery by the Kunsthistorisches Museum of Vienna—the Austrian State Museum.

VALUED AT $80,000,000

Valued at $80,000,000, the collection consists of paintings, armor, tapestries and sculpture and work in gold, silver, ivory, bronze and precious stones. There are 131 paintings—many world-famous—mostly by Flemish, Italian and Spanish artists of the 16th and 17th centuries.

Sidney Key, curator of the gallery, says the $80,000,000 is merely an insurance estimate.

"Every item in the collection is unique and irreplaceable," he says. "One painting, 'The Artist in His Studio,' by the Dutch master Jan Vermeer, is valued at $2,000,000. But it can no more be replaced than can Westminster Abbey."

HAPSBURG HOBY

The collection was assembled over a period of four centuries by members of the Hapsburg family who at one time ruled Europe from the Mediterranean to the Baltic.

Parts of the portrait collection constitute a cross-section of the aristocracy of Europe for the last 400 years.

To look at the paintings in the gallery is to recall famous names—Rubens, Velasquez, Van Dyck, Tintoretto and Rembrandt Van Rijn.

Armed guards patrol the corridors of the gallery and policemen wait outside. They keep a special eye on the star of the show.

It is a 15-pound salt cellar made of beaten and hammered gold and enameled in blue and black. It was made for King

Francis I of France by the Italian craftsman Benvenuto Cellini—held the greatest goldsmith of his day.

Marches, strathspeys and reels sent their echoes flying through the heather-clad hills surrounding Birhall House, near Aberdeen, as 26 pipers of Canada's Argyll and Sutherland Highlanders gave a command performance before taking tea with their colonel in chief, Princess Elizabeth.

The Princess invited the 26, all from Hamilton, Ont., to her since competing in the overseas pipers' championships and attending the clan gathering at Edinburgh.

As the pipers marched the Princess filmed them with her movie camera.

Migration

Some 150,000 immigrants from Europe are expected to come to Canada this year, H. C. P. Cresswell, chief immigration and development commissioner for the Canadian Pacific Railway, said in Edmonton.

The International Labor Organization's migration conference set for Naples in October will consider a plan to drain off Europe's crowded surplus manpower by migration to other parts of the world. David A. Morse, director-general of the I.L.O., told the United Nations Economic and Social Council in Geneva that international backing will be sought to finance the migration of 200,000 workers yearly.

Landlubber Spends Day in Galley, Helps Prepare Ship's $255 Menu

By ERITH M. SMITH

Colonist Staff Reporter

ABOARD H.M.C.S. CRUSADER, Aug. 18 (Delayed).—What would you say if you faced a daily food bill of $225—even at wholesale contract prices?

That amount, Landlubber learned, consumes a daily average of 225 pounds of these familiar vegetables.

By this time the early watch had gone off duty, so the galley (and supper) were left in the hands of one petty officer, one hand—and heaven help the ship!

—Landlubber.

SUPPER MENU
Supper's menu consisted of potatoe Jackson, another type of vegetable soup, croquettes, mashed potatoes, corn on the cob, the aforementioned cookies and the usual bread and butter with tea, coffee or milk.

He added, on instruction, one or two ingredients to the soup and to the sauce made for the rissoles. The corn came aboard two ears to a cellophane package, and these he helped open and pop into the huge boiler.

The croquettes should have a paragraph to themselves. Into them Landlubber put his heart, hands, wrists and elbows. (But let it be clearly understood all these members were recovered intact.)

Crusader's electric mixer (it beat up the cookie batter in the morning) has various attachments which grind meat and vegetables and, for all Landlubber knows, may be used as a paddle to initiate new cooks.

GREAT CHUNKS
Through the grinder, then, went great chunks of meat for the croquettes, while a big pot of rice cooked on the range. The whole final mixture was stirred together in two metal bowls measuring roughly two feet across the top and a foot deep.

HUGE ROASTS
Potatoe-trimming came to a halt just in time to let the meat-slicer go into operation for dinner. Huge succulent roasts, making Landlubber think with sorrow of his own Sunday brisquets, came sizzling from the oven to the slicing machine, to reappear as mounds of fragrant, hot beef slices.

Together with pans of roast potatoes, carrots, soup, gravy and dessert (by now Landlubber knew enough to call it duff), the

M.C.C. has been defeated only once in 13 games on Canadian tour. Club will arrive in Victoria Sunday morning, meet Victoria All-Stars in all-day match and rest Monday before starting return trip.

GUESSING DEPARTMENT: The A's to lose tonight (by request) and Pitts & Nex in the first game of the men's softball final. Batting average to date: At bat 326, hits 227, percentage .696.

Another good southpaw bowler M.C.C. batters will face is Jack Payne, above. Payne's bowling features leg and off-breaks with occasional change of pace to add confusion. Third left-handed bowler is George Payne, but George's strong point is batting and agile fielding.—

minor role in league operation. Hendry, 39, who was elected president at a meeting last week in absentia and refused to accept the post unless league officials were given blanket authority. The three-man executive which will rule this season consists of Hendry, vice-president Stefanini and secretary Horner Lear. Hendry would like something to do with the league, but he has no plan for the Victoria entry, hitherto at a disadvantage in building up a following with a hit-and-miss schedule which did not give it enough home games. Under present plans, United is to have more home games than ever before, but Hendry is hopeful that this will cause a surprise of soccer interest here.

After hearing all the evidence, the meeting threw out the game and ordered the replay by unanimous vote.

SPECIAL NOTE to season ticket holders. As a convenience when calling for your tickets today, you may pick up your tickets for third game of series to be played at Arena next Wednesday.

BRONCHIAL COUGH Pleads Guilty

Frank Wilson Tingle, 19 of 99 Metehosin Road, appeared in Saanich police court again yesterday to plead guilty to charges of breaking and entering and theft.

The offense took place Aug. 13 when, with a 15-year-old associate, he said, he broke into the Gorge Grocery at Gorge and Tillicum and made off with about $50.

He was remanded for a week to be screened for admission to the Boreal home.

The name of Bell Island off the east coast of Newfoundland was suggested by a large bell-shaped rock on the island.

Karaganda, Russia's most notorious concentration camp, to serve a three-year sentence. It was eight years before he came back. The M.V.D. reserves the "privilege" of deciding whether a prisoner should be "detained" for a longer period than his original sentence.

From Stalinabad to Karaganda took 47 days in a cattle car, 90 men packed together. It was sealed almost all the way, especially when it passed through cities and towns, where railway stations were closed to the public to avoid "scenes."

Food on the train was unimaginably meager and bodies of prisoners who perished on the way because of the cold and starvation were pitched out onto the frozen ground.

On arrival he remembered, M.V.D. officials handpicked the youngest girls to serve as mistresses and servants. They had been sentenced for absenteeism from factories.

Later, many women made special efforts to become pregnant to gain respite from the harsh conditions. After nine months their children were taken away. In Siberia, at both Karaganda and at a second camp, Kolyma in Northeast Siberia, eternal everlasting cold caused the greatest pain. Usually it is dysentery, swollen bodies and loss of teeth that hit slave laborers hardest.

Food was distributed on a "sliding scale" basis. The system was quite simple—keep inmates on a near-starvation diet and make them work for "extras." Horses and dogs got better food. To be caught stealing a piece "responsible" position without M.V.D. permission.

You can never revisit your former home. The police are your eternal masters.

You have to be no older than 12 to be sent to a labor camp. "Gregori" saw children that age in camps only because their parents had died, leaving them wards of the state.

For many, death came as the only escape.

(Editor's Note: Kasha's story recalls dispatches reporting that three-quarters of a million men, women and children died during the construction of the White Sea Canal in the early 1930's. Some 300,000 Jews are said to have similarly perished elsewhere.)

WHERE ARE THEY?

In Soviet Russia one hears reports day after day, about the fate and the whereabouts of those who have been swallowed by the "system." Where are they?

First, there are the huge state projects like the Volga-Dnieper canal, the Kachovka power project on the Dnieper River, the Stalin-grad and Kuybyshev dams, the Turkmenian canal and the Ukrainian and North Crimean canals.

Besides Karaganda (a province sometimes called "a concentration camp without walls," it is so vast) and Kolyma, one frequently hears about Ukhta-Pechora, north of the Arctic Circle, and Nakhodka, near Vladivostok.

SPREADING WEST

Once the camps mostly were in East Russia. Today they are spreading west towards European Russia. The reason is obvious. In 1929 there were probably no more than 200,000 slave laborers. Today the number is between 8,000,000 and 12,000,000.

In 1929 there were the kulaks. In 1936 the purge trials, in 1940 the "foreigners" from Latvia, Estonia, Lithuania and other "conquered lands." Today it is anyone who dares oppose the Stalin system.

The Soviet state is intent—it almost seems like a mania—upon creating great physical monuments to itself. Every-where dams, canals, bridges, harbors.

These, it truly has been said, are monuments to the memories of the men who died building them.

(Tomorrow: In these and countless to the Stalin system in Soviet Russia? Ask Kasha, in concluding this series, tries to answer.)

Air Plans Spur Big Land Deal

TORONTO, Aug. 23 (CPI).—Toronto real estate brokers said today a giant aircraft industry is planned for the Simcoe area of western Ontario, where a multi-million-dollar deal is reported being negotiated.

Simcoe farmers disclosed last night that between 10 and 15 farms in the district have been rehased at prices ranging from $700 to $1,000 an acre. The normal price was said to be $400 an acre.

Brokers here, said to be acting as agents and working through an unidentified Simcoe realtor, estimated the total cost of the

Seek Full Survey of Arena As More Defects Disclosed

A "physical survey" of the Memorial Arena will be recommended by city council's finance committee.

The proposal, which will go before council Tuesday, was announced yesterday morning after a joint meeting of the committee and Carl Pendray, commission chairman, and H. W. Davey, K.C., member.

After the parley, Mr. Davey expressed fear that certain structural faults may force closure of the arena at some future date. The survey, he explained, would provide the commission and the city with all the necessary information.

NO RISK TO PATRONS

He stressed, however, that the defects in no way endanger the arena's patrons.

Biggest problem facing the commission is the arena floor which has heaved in the north-east corner, endangering seating. It is hoped the work will be postponed until after the hockey season.

Other troubles include cracks in the arena walls and possibly inadequate electrical wiring. Also stated for study is the effectiveness of the arena's spray pond.

TO END CONFUSION

The request for a complete survey is taken as an indication that the present arena commission wants to obtain full information about the condition of the building and its equipment.

With this information in hand, the commission will know exactly what is required to bring the arena up to standard.

Arena commissioners, it is understood, want once and for all to clear up confusion about condition of the arena. A comprehensive survey, they feel, is the best method of gaining that.

Would Enforce Labeling Of All City's Taxicabs

Compulsory marking of taxi company names on all city taxicabs was suggested yesterday by Sgt. Brooke Douglas, traffic department head, at a transportation committee meeting.

The sergeant said the police have had complaints from taxicab patrons of short-changing. Upon investigating, he explained, it was found in nearly all cases the complaint had no basis, identifying the driver of the cab.

To eliminate this, at Douglas suggested the taxi-by-law be amended to require every cab owner to paint on the vehicle a business name in letters not less than two inches high. Provision would be made in the by-law for covering the name for certain occasions such as funerals and weddings.

The committee laid the recommendation on the table.

Lawyers Apply For Rezoning

AROUND TOWN

Patrick J. Sinnott and Sinclair Elliott, Victoria barristers, have applied to the city to have property at 620 Seaford Street rezoned for industrial purposes.

"This is a large property on the Victoria harbor, and situated on deep water," wrote Mr. Sinnott, who said he and Mr. Elliott owned it.

Although the barrister didn't make reference to it, it is believed this is the same property which is the subject of a petition recently forwarded to city council. Residents say they heard a saw mill may be erected on the site and claim their properties will be reduced in value.

Both matters will go before council Tuesday.

W. H. Mearns, 3022 Caribou Bay Road, applied to the city yesterday for permission to operate a parking lot on property on Burdett Avenue just east of Douglas Street.

"If permission is granted, additional facilities will assist in relieving the parking problem," said Mr. Mearns.

Sixty thousand new copies of a Greater Victoria map are ready for distribution from Victoria and Island Planning Bureau, Government Street, the chamber of commerce reports.

Since July, 10,000 copies have been distributed. The map shows territory within the five-mile circle.

K. Wallace, 1296 Ocean View Road, must have the interests of the taxpayers at heart.

Early Wednesday night a cigarette dropped in the front of his car and started the front door burning.

He drove to the city fire department, had the blaze extinguished, then headed home again.

Wage Increases

Eighty McLennan, McFeely & Prior Ltd. employees in Victoria were granted wage boosts of from $18 to $50 monthly, retroactive to Aug. 1, Local 885, General Teamsters' Union (A.F.L.T.C.) announced yesterday.

A wage offer from six transfer and cartage companies will be presented to 160 employees Tuesday night at the Williams Building, Broughton Street, a spokesman for the A.F.L.T.C. General Teamsters' Union.

Workers seek a 16-cent hourly wage boost and the cost-of-living index, he said. The wage offer was not disclosed.

City police reported the theft of between $10 and $50 from two women's purses in the office of a downtown store yesterday.

The purses belonged to two store employees, Mrs. H. Giesse and Miss J. Miller.

Certification as bargaining agent for James R. Beckerley, contractor, has been granted Local 1093, Laborers' Union (A.F.L.T.C.), organizer Earl Allen said yesterday.

Freight Rate Talks

Freight rates will be the subject discussed at a joint meeting between city council's finance committee and Chamber of Commerce industrial committee.

The finance committee yesterday left it to Acting Mayor Frank Mulliner to set a date for the parley.

The chamber is striving to have freight rate parity restored between Victoria and Vancouver.

Mrs. H. Peters, 754 Kings Road, reported to city police yesterday that her 2½-year-old daughter Thirly had been bitten on the face by a dog owned by a neighbor.

The neighbor told police children were continually teasing his dog.

Beauty and You

B. MARION MATTHEWS

The beauty of a woman is not in her face, but in her smile. It is not in her hair, but in the way she wears it. It is not in her clothes, but in the way she carries them.

Beauty is a state of mind. It is a feeling of well-being, of contentment, of peace. It is a feeling that comes from within, and it is a feeling that can be shared with others.

Beauty is a quality that can be cultivated. It is a quality that can be developed through the use of proper grooming and the cultivation of a good personality.

Beauty is a quality that can be maintained. It is a quality that can be kept through the use of proper grooming and the cultivation of a good personality.

Beauty is a quality that can be shared. It is a quality that can be shared with others through the use of proper grooming and the cultivation of a good personality.

Yarrows Boilers Destined for Warships

Yarrows Ltd. has built and shipped 16 of these boilers to shipyards all over Canada. Most were built for new R.C.N. warships. Others are for installation in commercial vessels.—(Photo by G. N. Y. Simpson.)

Boilers Made Here Go to Navy; Usually Built in Eastern Canada

MARINE AND TRAVEL NEWS

A number of new warships being built for the Royal Canadian Navy will be equipped with Watts-type boilers built by Yarrows Ltd.

Sixteen of the boilers have been constructed at the local shipyard and already sent to widely scattered Canadian destinations.

The project represents a significant reversal of usual practice. Most special equipment is built in the east.

Most of the boilers were specially constructed for the country's naval construction program.

The naval boilers will be installed at the Davie Shipbuilding & Repair Company, Lunenburg, Que.; the Port Arthur Shipbuilding Company, Port Arthur, St. John, N.B.; Drydock Co. Ltd., St. John, N.B.; Canadian Vickers Ltd., Montreal; the Canadian Shipbuilding Company, Kingston, Ont.; George T. Davis & Sons Ltd., Quebec; Victoria Machinery Depot Co. Ltd., and Yarrows Ltd.

Larger boilers have been sent to the Collingwood Shipyards for use in a 640-foot ore carrier, and to the Millard Shipyards Ltd. for the same type of ore carrier.

All the boilers have a high rating of efficiency and are to be installed with complete automatic equipment which will be supplied from A. E. Watts Ltd., Montreal.

SIXTEEN OFFICIALS HERE
Sixteen members of the Imperial Defense College and a conducting officer representing the Canadian services arrived here by air from Vancouver yesterday afternoon.

They are on a two-day tour of local military and industrial installations, and will leave early Sunday morning for Vancouver aboard the destroyer Crusader.

Persons prominent in Italian and Canadian military, civic and religious circles will participate in the unloading ceremonies.

The arms, mostly of Second World War vintage, are enough to equip an infantry division.

EXECUTIVE IN QUEBEC

Norman Yarrows, a director of the B.C. Electric Railway Company and the Royal Trust Company, and former managing director of Yarrows Ltd., was among passengers peering through the windows of the Cunard liner Franconia out of Liverpool.

The legendary priest Aharis was said to ride through the air on an arrow.

FOUR-YEAR TRIP

The yawl Magic Carpet sailed out of the Columbia River onto a calm sea yesterday on what its owners hope will be a four-year trip around the world.

The yawl is handled by Mr. and Mrs. Luis Martine-Lally of Salem. It left the Columbia under the power of its outboard auxiliary motor, but Martine-Lally planned to hoist sails when he reached the open sea. The first stop planned is San Francisco.

MONTROSE UNLOADS ARMS

The Canadian freighter Montrose docked in Naples yesterday with 1,500 tons of Canadian arms and equipment for Italy. The ship will be unloaded with a special ceremony.

To prevent any possible Communist demonstration against the gift of the Canadian government, authorities have placed a heavy guard in the dock area.

Sentence Suspended After Highway Pile-Up

Charles A. Atkinson, 2769 Cedar Hill Road, was given a suspended sentence in Saanich police court yesterday afternoon on a careless driving charge dated July 15.

The charge followed an accident on the Cedar Hill Road near Elk Lake in which three cars and an airline bus were involved. Considerable damage was caused to all three cars.

Atkinson, driver of the bus, claimed he could have avoided hitting the rear of a car driven by H. A. Henson, of 21 Helmecken Road, by slamming on his brakes. He didn't take such action, he told the court, fearing that several children in the front of the bus might have been seriously injured.

The three-car and bus incident resulted when a fourth car, ahead of them all, made a sudden left-hand turn off East Saanich Road.

Atkinson said he was traveling at between 15 and 20 miles an hour before striking the last in the string of three cars which had been brought to a sudden stop. He had been using extreme caution, he said, because of the number of cars in the area and the many children playing near the Elk Lake waterfront.

A fine of $35 and a three-month suspension of his driver's license was imposed upon Norman Hogan, 3116 Steele Street, on a charge of dangerous driving. The offense took place Aug. 18 on Tillicum Road near the outdoor theatre.

James Broxley, 3141 Aldridge Street, was fined $5 for lighting an open fire without a fire permit.

For failure to pay a Hospital Insurance premium on its due date, Elizabeth Turvey, 2584 Arbutus Road, was fined $5.

Frederick H. E. Gale, Morris Drive, was given until next Thursday to dispose of his dog by Esther Watson, Trucas Drive. Gale told the court he had compensated Mrs. Watson for the dog chained since the incident.

Thomas Clark, Scott Road, was given a suspended sentence on a charge of having a fire-outdoor without a permit. The fire involved, he said, had been accidental. He had dumped ashes near a rubbish pile in the centre of a field.

EARLY PRISON

Newgate, famous old British prison demolished in 1904, was founded in the early part of the 12th century.

Experience in Dealing With Russians Fills Him With Sympathy for West

Western representatives dealing with the Russians, whether it be at the Korean peace discussions or anywhere else, have the heartfelt sympathy of Morris Greene.

Mr. Greene heads a large scrap iron and metal firm here, and on several occasions during the war had dealings with representatives of Russia, particularly from Soviet purchasing departments.

The Russians, he said, never on a one-man basis. There were always groups of four or five of them. "The Russians feel there is an ulterior motive behind everything any westerner does. They are suspicious at all times."

SALVAGE CASE

He told of a Russian ship which grounded at Pachena Point on the west coast, early in April, 1943. Efforts to salvage the ship itself proved fruitless.

Several days after the ship salvage job had been abandoned, three Russian representatives called at his office to ask Mr. Greene if his firm could salvage equipment from the stranded vessel. A try would be made, Mr. Greene said. The next day he journeyed to Portland, to see a man the three Russians referred to as "the admiral."

His experience led to a definite conclusion: "It's practically impossible to do business with the Russians."

ACCUSATIONS

Later, about 400 Canadian army men were sent to the wrecked vessel to salvage equipment and supplies. Russia sent a protest to Ottawa, accusing the soldiers of theft and pilferage.

An official inquiry was held. The only theft involved some chocolate bars. Later the Canadian army men were exonerated, and thanked for their services by the Russians.

"Too many of us are too complacent in both thought and action about Communism," Mr. Greene said. "We are facing a serious problem that will ultimately get to our very roots. Let's wake up to that problem."
